

ATTACK SQUADRON SIXTY-SIX

Attack Squadron Sixty-Six is Commanded by Cdr. U. L. Fretwell, USN, and is the jet attack and interceptor squadron of the Air Group. VA-66 has the distinction of being the first F7U "Cutlass" Squadron to be deployed in the Mediterranean. The squadron was temporarily based ashore at Port Lyautey, French Morocco several months of the cruise. They were gone, but not forgotten.

