

NAVIGATION

Navigator

A handful of hardware, with a microscope attached, is aimed at the heavens. Grunts of affirmation punctuate the air and heads nod approvingly. Precise numbers are called out and are recorded. The procession moves into the Chart House. Astrological tables and mystic charts of the seven seas come into play. The Navigator and Quartermasters arm themselves with dividers, parallel rules and needle sharp pencils. The ship's position is plotted—again, for the plot is kept around the clock.

Aiding the Navigator, CDR Harold Vita, is LT Richard Allen, the Division Officer of N Division. They, along with the Quartermasters, keep the Ticonderoga on a true and safe course.

N DIVISION: Front Row ; D.A. Alpaugh, C.W. Stone, P.F. Foederer, R.C. Gaines, CDR H.E. Vita, B.S. Davis, J. Bogden, G.D. Nichols. Middle Row ; R.L. Dawson, J.M. Earl, R.V. Boberg, G.J. Baumgarten, A.C. Schanick, D.F. Decowski, C.S. Brooks, S.D. Miles. Back Row ; R.A. Grigg, M.E. Chasse, R.C. West, J.T. West, J.T. Scott, R.A. Schott, B.T. Kubiak, J.R. Crosby.

