

Production of a book this size is a momentous effort, involving a lot of people, a lot of time and a lot of money. We feel it is only right to devote one page to those people who gave so freely of their time in order to make T-GRAM, '71 possible. Special credit should go to a violin-playing artist who proved to be as adept with a camera as he is with a violin and a paintbrush. SN (now Mister) Doug Miller can claim credit for the majority of the color photos.

Some others, whose specific contributions would be too lengthy to add are: CDR John Dodge, cruisebook chairman; ENS Rick Gaffney, sales manager; LTJG Carl Caskey, Welfare and Recreation Custodian; Chief Moore and his photo lab for the cover shot and other photo assistance; JO3 "Butch" Brock, staff writer. And also, Mr. Craig Steele, a former Hancock sailor now with Pischel Printing Company gave us some outstanding eleventh hour layout assistance.

We especially want to thank all the photographers who donated their personal photos for publication: Richard Dillenkofer, James Carlson, Joseph Morino, Christopher Desales, Richard Merzuros, David Mobraten, Patrick Malott, Peter W. Swanson, Don Stroebel.

Last, but not least, we want to give our special thanks to the men of USS Ticonderoga. You all waited patiently for this book which was, unfortunately, later than usual. But we think it was worth the wait.
